

Show your clients how they can get LTC protection for less — together

Your clients live and share life together in significant ways. Spouses, siblings, domestic partners, business partners and even parents and children impact each other's lives and financial interests. Now you can help them protect each other for less — together.

When two individuals each purchase Asset-Care® policies, the premiums can add up to more than the cost of one-of-a-kind joint protection of Asset-Care.

Asset-Care can help your clients get long-term care (LTC) protection for two people under one joint policy for potentially less money and more peace of mind. What can it do for your business?
