NAIC and DRA Partnership Producer Training

Per the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005 (DRA) and the NAIC Long Term Care Model Act, most states that have adopted training requirements are requiring that ALL licensed producers selling long-term care insurance take an initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course (followed by a 4-hour refresher course every 2 years). Some states have adopted training requirements other than those mentioned above.

Training for all producers —Some states may only require that producers writing Partnership policies be trained. In states where training requirements have been adopted, John Hancock requires that ALL producers be trained prior to soliciting its products - whether Partnership or not. Therefore, the state training requirements detailed below reflect John Hancock's requirements which will always include satisfaction of specific state training mandates.

Write business in multiple states — The NAIC Model recommends training reciprocity. This allows training taken in one state to be valid (reciprocal) in other states that require training. To date, most states have adopted full training reciprocity for non-residents. However, there are a few states that have only adopted partial reciprocity. This means that they will accept the non-resident producer's 8-hour NAIC Partnership training from other states, as long as non-resident producers receive additional training as required by that state. Examples: Minnesota, South Dakota, Virginia, and Wisconsin. If a state has not adopted full reciprocity, it will be mentioned in the states training requirements below.

Important Note – Please remember there is no current training reciprocity between the original grandfathered Partnership programs and the new DRA Partnership programs.

LTC-3251 Rev. 9/13

No Resident/Home State Requirements — Often times a producer may live in a state that does not have any training requirements. In order to write business in another state which does have training requirements, the producer takes the training required in that non-resident state. What happens when the home/resident state subsequently issues new training requirements? Three scenarios can occur.

1. The first and best scenario (which is also the most common) occurs when the home/resident state will accept an 8-hour training course from another state because the state recognizes reciprocity.

2. The second scenario occurs when the home/resident state will accept the other state's 8-hour course and additionally require some supplement state specific training. This includes: South Dakota, Georgia, and Wisconsin.

3. The third scenario occurs when the home/resident state requires that the producer take the home state's training course. This includes: Arizona, Colorado, Georgia, Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas and Wisconsin. Unfortunately, this means there are going to be situations where a producer will end up needing to take two training courses.

Training requirements but no Partnership program
There are several states that have implemented training requirements prior to filing a State Plan Amendment for a Partnership program, or do not have a Partnership program. Please note that several states have adopted training requirements, without implementing a Partnership program.

ClearCert Membership — Courses must be ClearCert approved
John Hancock is a member of ClearCert, which assists insurer members in validating content in NAIC Partnership courses as well as offering a clearinghouse database of course completions of course provider members.

The DRA and NAIC Producer Training Model Act require that insurers assure that producers meet all applicable producer training requirements. As result, in order to make this assurance, we must validate training content and track course completions. ClearCert reviews all courses submitted to them against the current LTC training requirements that have been pre-approved by insurer members. ClearCert then posts all approved courses on their website. This assures producers who successfully complete courses from providers listed on ClearCert have met their state's LTCI training requirement(s) as required by John Hancock. All course completions from approved course providers are reported to the clearinghouse database and are available for look up by member insurers.

All courses completed by producers must be approved by ClearCert in order to be accepted as valid training by John Hancock.

Training Required: Initial 16-hour training course consisting of 8-hours of general LTC training (classroom or online); and 8-hours of training specific to LTC Partnership (classroom only). The courses can be taken in any order.

Resident producers: Colorado requires resident producers take the 16-hour Colorado course. They may not take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Non-resident producers: Colorado adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take the Colorado 16 hour course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state. (An 8-hour Partnership class from one of the original four Partnership states will not suffice.)

Refresher Training: Colorado requires a 5-hour course must be completed with in 24 months of prior completion. This must be taken in a classroom setting. Non-resident producers may take a 4 hour class or online course in another state to meet Colorado's training requirement. An 8 hour General LTC or Partnership class cannot take the place of the 5-hour course requirement.

Florida

Training Deadline: 12/31/07

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course

Resident producers: Florida requires that resident producers take a Florida 8-hour NAIC Partnership course that has been approved as continuing education. CE does need to be issued. Florida residents may also take a NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Non-resident producers: Florida has left training reciprocity up to the insurers. At this time, John Hancock allows reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a Florida 8-hour NAIC Partnership course, OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Florida requires a 4-hour course every 24 months. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Georgia

Training Deadline: 4/1/2009 (The date John Hancock launched its Partnership product)

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: Georgia requires resident licensed producers take a Georgia Continuing Education approved 8-hour NAIC Partnership course, and CE must be issued. They may not take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to fulfill Georgia's requirements.

Non-resident producers: Georgia adopted partial training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a Georgia 8-hour NAIC Partnership that includes Georgia state Medicaid information, OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state as well as a 2 hour Georgia Medicaid training course. This training is available at www.jhpartnership.com.

Refresher Training: Effective 10/15/2012: For licenses issued prior to 7/1/2012, all continuing education requirements must be completed on or before December 31st. Upon renewal in 2012, continuing education completion deadlines were converted to a biennial date based on birth month. After this conversion, continuing education requirements must be completed biennially on or before the last day of the licensee's birth month. Where LTC refresher training has been required every 24 months, a producer must now meet the LTC training requirements before the second January 1 calendar year cycle required of all other CE training requirements, measured from the date of completion of the initial 8-hr LTC training.

Idaho

Training Deadline: 11/01/07

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: Idaho allows resident producers to take an Idaho 8-hour NAIC Partnership course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to fulfill Idaho's requirements.

Non-resident producers: Idaho adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take an Idaho 8-hour NAIC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Idaho requires a 4-hour course every 24 months. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Illinois

Training Deadline:

- Existing producers licensed before 7/1/08, must have completed the training by 7/1/09.
- Producers licensed after 7/1/08 must complete the training before selling LTC insurance in Illinois.

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour course approved by Illinois.

Resident producers: Illinois requires that licensed resident producers take the Illinois LTC Partnership which is an approved Continuing Education course. Resident producers may not take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to meet Illinois training requirements.

Non-resident producers: Illinois adopted training reciprocity for non-resident producers. This means that non-resident producers may take the Illinois LTC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Updated July, 2012: Illinois now requires a 4-hour course be completed 24 months from the date of the initial training completion. Previously, Illinois required that the 4-hour course be completed by the end of each license renewal cycle. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Important Note: Effective 10/23/2012: Per Insurance Department requirements, Illinois resident producers who fail to complete refresher training within the required interval must repeat the initial 8-hour training requirement before selling or soliciting LTC insurance. Producers are strongly advised to complete the refresher training by its due date to avoid having to repeat their initial training requirement.

Iowa

Training Deadline: January 1, 2010

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course with some nuances including Iowa specific content as to Partnership, estate recovery and Medicaid topics. The state will require licensed resident producers to take an 8-hour initial LTC course that has been approved as CE (and CE must be issued) prior to selling LTC insurance. Thereafter, a 4-hour CE refresher course must be taken every CE term. However, John Hancock will require that you keep your training current and will check for renewal training 36 months after prior completion.

The initial 8-hour training must be classroom training. However, the Insurance Department will allow a CE provider to request that a self study or on-line course be approved as a substitute. Refresher training may be taken in any setting.

Resident producers: Iowa requires resident producers to take an Iowa specific 8-hour NAIC Partnership course which has been approved as CE.

Non-Resident producers: Iowa adopted training reciprocity for non-resident producers only for both the 8-hour initial and 4-hour refresher. This means that non-resident producers may take an Iowa 8-hour NAIC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state

Effective May 10, 2010, we liberalized our guidelines relating to acceptable LTC producer training courses in Iowa. In addition to any ClearCert reviewed courses, we will also accept any course that is approved by the Iowa Insurance Department as CE and meets the required 8-hour initial training requirement (or eventually the 4-hour refresher requirement). The approved listing of such LTC courses is maintained by Pearson Vue @ www.pearsonvue.com.

Kansas

Kansas requires that effective 7/1/2010 all producers who sell Partnership products in Kansas must receive 4-hours initial training and 1-hour of training every biennium thereafter. John Hancock will require that all producers meet the following training requirements regardless of whether the producer sells Partnership plans or not. In order to be consistent with the practices of other states for reciprocity purposes, we will also require that producers meet the minimum NAIC Model hour requirements as detailed below.

Training Deadline: 7/1/2010

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: A Kansas producer may take a Kansas approved 8-hour NAIC Partnership course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to fulfill Kansas requirements.

Non-resident producers: Kansas adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a Kansas 8-hour NAIC Partnership course or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: John Hancock will require that a Kansas producer take a 4-hour course every 24 months. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Kentucky

Kentucky has adopted producer training requirements that are applicable only to producers who sell Partnership policies, John Hancock will require that ALL producers receive the required training once we launch our Partnership product. Additional details will be forthcoming regarding Kentucky requirements.

Training Deadline: The launch of our Partnership product.

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: Kentucky requires resident licensed producers take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course. If the course is approved for Kentucky CE, it may count toward the producer's overall CE requirements.

Non-resident producers: Kentucky adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a Kentucky 8-hour NAIC Partnership course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Updated August 23, 2011: Producers must complete ongoing training of at least 4 hours in length during each CE biennium following the period in which initial training was completed. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Louisiana

Training Deadline:

- Existing producers licensed before 8/15/10, must have completed the training by 8/15/11.
- Producers licensed after 8/15/10 must complete the training before selling LTC insurance in Louisiana.

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: Louisiana allows resident producers to take a Louisiana 8-hour NAIC Partnership course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to fulfill Louisiana's requirements.

Non-resident producers: Louisiana has adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a Louisiana 8-hour NAIC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Louisiana requires completion of a 4-hour course by the end of each renewal period. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Maine

Training Deadline:

- Existing producers that were licensed prior to 9/20/2007 must have completed training by 7/1/2008
- New producers that were licensed after 9/20/2007 must complete the 8-hour NAIC Partnership training prior to soliciting, negotiating, or selling LTC insurance.

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course

Resident producers: Maine requires that licensed resident producers either take a Maine approved 8-hour NAIC Partnership course or an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Non-resident producers: Maine adopted training reciprocity and allows non-resident producers to take a Maine approved NAIC Partnership course or an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Maine requires a 4-hour course every 24 months. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Maryland

Training Deadline:

- Existing producers licensed prior to 9/10/07 must have completed the training mentioned above by 9/10/2008,
- New producers licensed after 9/20/07 must have completed the training mentioned above prior to soliciting, negotiating or selling LTC insurance.

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: Maryland requires that resident producers either take a Maryland approved 8-hour NAIC Partnership course or an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Non-resident producers: Maryland adopted training reciprocity and allows non-resident producers to take a Maryland approved NAIC Partnership course or an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Maryland requires a 4-hour course every 24 months. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Massachusetts

Current Requirements:

Under current regulations, rather than require CE credits or NAIC producer training, Massachusetts requires an insurer to:

- Train producers about its products and long-term care; and
- Maintain records regarding producers who have completed such training.

Initial Training for New Producers, Non-Resident Producers & Brokers – All new producers (including non-resident) and brokers who are licensed and appointed with John Hancock and who wish to sell John Hancock's individual LTC policies must certify that they have received, reviewed and understand our current Custom Care III featuring Benefit Builder Producer Guide as well as the MA Guide “Your Options for Financing Long-Term Care: A Massachusetts Guide.”

Certification that a course has been completed must be provided to our Licensing area before any producer may sell our product. Our issue system will block the issuance of any long-term care policy unless these requirements have been met.

The Certification Form (LTC-1034) can be found on www.jhltc.com.

Producers Who Have Received Training Must Keep Current on New Developments and Products Once producers receive their initial training, they must keep current on developments in long-term care as well as changes and enhancements to John Hancock's product portfolio. For this generation of products, we will make the following material available to all such producers – Custom Care III featuring Benefit Builder Producer Guide as well as the MA Guide "Your Options for Financing Long-Term Care: A Massachusetts Guide". We will update these materials in the future as needed.

No certification is needed after the initial certification.

New Requirements

Training Deadline: 7/1/14

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: Massachussetts allows resident producers to take a Massachussetts 8-hour NAIC Partnership course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to fulfill Massachussetts' requirements.

Non-resident producers: Massachussetts adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a Massachussetts 8-hour NAIC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Massachussetts requires a 4-hour course every 24 months. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Important Note: Until such time as the NAIC training requirements are implemented, John Hancock will continue to require producers meet our current pre-1/1/2013 training requirements described above.

Michigan

Training Deadline: 1/1/08

Training Requirements: Training is required on subjects relating to LTC insurance and long-term care. This training can be developed and offered by insurers, or be an 8-hour NAIC Partnership Training course.

- New producers licensed after 7/14/08 must complete the training mentioned above prior to soliciting, negotiating, or selling LTC insurance

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: Oklahoma allows resident producers to take an Oklahoma 8-hour NAIC Partnership course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to fulfill Oklahoma’s requirements.

Non-resident producers: Oklahoma adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take an Oklahoma 8-hour NAIC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Oklahoma requires a 4-hour course to be completed during each biennial renewal period. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Oregon

Training Deadline: 1/31/2008

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: Oregon allows resident producers to take an Oregon 8-hour NAIC Partnership course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to fulfill Oregon's requirements.

Non-resident producers: Oregon adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take an Oregon 8-hour NAIC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Oregon requires a 4-hour course every 24 months. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Pennsylvania

Training Deadline:

- 4/1/2011 for producers newly licensed on and after this date.
- 4/1/2012 for producers already licensed as of 4/1/2011.

Training Requirements:

Initial 8-hour LTC training course.
As part of this 8-hour requirement, a special 1-hour course related to the Medical Assistance Program (Medicaid) is required prior to engaging in any marketing activity of any LTC insurance policies.

Resident producers:
Pennsylvania allows resident producers to take a Pennsylvania 8-hour LTC training course, or they may take an 8-hour Partnership course from another state to fulfill its requirements. If the above mentioned 1-hour course related to the Medical Assistance Program (Medicaid) is not included in the 8 hour course it must be taken separately.

Non-resident producers:
Pennsylvania adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a Pennsylvania 8-hour LTC training course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state. Important note: Non-resident producers do NOT need to take a 1 hour PA Medicaid course.

Refresher Training:
Pennsylvania requires all producers to complete at least a 4-hour course every 24 month licensing cycle.

Rhode Island

Training Deadline:

- Existing producers licensed before 1/1/08 must have completed the training mentioned above by 7/1/08
- New producers licensed after 1/1/08 must complete the training mentioned above prior to soliciting, negotiating, or selling LTC insurance.

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: Rhode Island allows resident producers to take a Rhode Island 8-hour NAIC Partnership course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to fulfill Rhode Island's requirements.

Non-resident producers: Rhode Island adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a Rhode Island 8-hour NAIC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Rhode Island requires a 4-hour course every 24 months. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

South Carolina

Training Deadline: 7/1/2009

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: South Carolina allows resident producers to take a South Carolina 8-hour NAIC Partnership course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to fulfill South Carolina's requirements.

Non-resident producers: South Carolina has adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a South Carolina 8-hour NAIC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: South Carolina requires a 4-hour course every 24 months. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

South Dakota

Training Deadline: 7/1/2008

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course which includes South Dakota state Medicaid information.

Resident producers: South Dakota allows resident producers to take a South Dakota 8-hour NAIC Partnership course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to fulfill South Dakota's requirements.

Non-resident producers: South Dakota adopted partial training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a South Dakota 8-hour NAIC Partnership that includes South Dakota state Medicaid information, OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state. If the training is from another state, the producer must take a 1 hour South Dakota Medicaid course. This course can be taken at www.jhpartnership.com.

Refresher Training: South Dakota requires a 4-hour course every 24 months. For producers who became licensed after July 1, 2008, they must have completed 12 hours of training by July 1, 2010. The 4 hours of refresher training must be completed by July 1, 2010. The 4 hours of refresher training must be completed by July 1 of every second year.

Tennessee

Training Deadline:

- Existing producers licensed prior to July 1, 2008 must have completed training by July 1, 2009 .
- New producers licensed after July 1, 2009 must complete training prior to selling LTCI.

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: Tennessee requires resident licensed producers take a Tennessee Continuing Education approved 8-hour NAIC Partnership course. They may not take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to fulfill Tennessee's requirements.

Non-resident producers: Tennessee adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a Tennessee 8-hour NAIC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Tennessee requires 4 hours of additional training every 24 months starting with the renewal period after the 8 hour course was taken. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Effective May 25, 2010:
"Producers exempt from general CE requirements in Tennessee - i.e. who have been continuously licensed since 1/1/1994 - are also exempt from having to complete the 4-hour ongoing LTC training requirement".

Texas

Training Deadline:

- Existing producers licensed prior to 8/5/08 must meet the training requirement by the date John Hancock launched our Partnership product which was 10/26/09.
- Producers licensed on or after 8/5/08 must have met the training requirement by the date that John Hancock launched our Partnership product which was 10/26/09.

Training requirements: Texas approved 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: Texas requires that licensed resident producers take a course that has been approved by the Texas Department of Insurance. It does not have to be approved as continuing education, but can be.

Non-resident producers: Texas adopted training reciprocity for non-resident producers if they are licensed in their home state, the home state is a Partnership state, and the producer takes a comparable course in their home state. If the home state is not a Partnership state, the producer can meet the requirements by taking a qualified 8-hour Texas 8-hour NAIC Partnership course.

Refresher Training: UPDATED JUNE 27th, 2013: Texas requires a 4-hour course to be taken by the end of each CE cycle and it must be approved as Continuing Education (CE). A non-resident will be deemed to satisfy the requirements if they are licensed in their home state and their home state is a Partnership state. If the home state is not a Partnership state, the producer can meet the requirements by taking an 8-hour Texas NAIC Partnership course. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Utah

Training Deadline: 5/10/2011

Training Requirements: Initial minimum of 3-hour training course on long-term care and long-term care insurance.

Resident producers: Utah allows resident producers to take a Utah 3-hour NAIC Partnership course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from Utah or another state to fulfill Utah requirements.

However, resident producers who completed a 3-hour course in Utah cannot expect to have that recognized as meeting another state's longer training requirement. John Hancock strongly recommends that producers complete an 8-hour course in order to avoid problems with training reciprocity if they also market long-term care insurance in other states.

Non-resident producers: Utah adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a Utah 3-hour NAIC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from Utah or any other state.

Refresher Training: Utah requires a 3-hour course during each subsequent two-year licensing period.

Virginia

Training Deadline: 12/10/07 (The date John Hancock launched its Partnership product)

Training Requirements: An initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course which includes 2-hours of Virginia Partnership training. The 8-hour course must be approved by the VA DOI.

Resident producers: Virginia allows resident producers to take a Virginia 8-hour NAIC Partnership course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to fulfill 6 of the required 8-hours of NAIC Partnership Training. If a course is taken from another state, the producer must also take a 2 hour VA Partnership course.

Non-resident producers: Virginia has adopted partial training reciprocity for 6 hours of NAIC Partnership training. This means that non-resident producers may take a Virginia 8-hour NAIC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state and a 2 hour VA Partnership course.

Refresher Training: Virginia requires a 4-hour course every 24 months. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers. Updated October 24th, 2012 John Hancock has updated the requirements for refresher training according to a change on the VA DOI website. "Resident agents who fail to complete the ongoing four hours of training within 24 months of the initial eight-hours of training must again complete eight hours of training. The announcement can be found on this link: http://www.scc.virginia.gov/boi/faq/ag_license.pdf

Vermont

When Vermont's training requirement was originally adopted, it was anticipated that Vermont would implement a DRA Partnership. They included a 2-hour specific Vermont Medicaid component in their training requirements. Legislation which would authorize Vermont to establish a DRA Partnership failed after the adoption of this regulation. At this time, no specific Vermont Medicaid information outline has been developed by the Department. We will continue to monitor any change in this requirement.

- Training applies to all producers selling LTC as follows:
  - Existing producers licensed on or before 3/31/10 must have completed the training by 3/31/11.
  - New producers licensed after 3/31/10 must complete the training mentioned above prior to selling LTCI.

Training requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC training course of which 2-hours shall contain Vermont specific Medicaid information. Training must be approved as CE

We will accept any 8-hour NAIC/LTC course approved by Vermont as CE. In addition, such training may count to a producer's CE requirements if the course meets all CE requirements including course approval and provider registration.

Resident producers: Vermont requires that resident producers take a Vermont approved course consisting of 6-hours of LTC insurance training and 2 hours of Vermont Medicaid training. Until we are informed to the contrary, Vermont resident producers may take an 8-hour NAIC course approved in Vermont as CE. Vermont producers cannot take an 8-hour NAIC course from another state

- Non-resident producers: In light of the fact that Partnership legislation failed and no special 2-hour Vermont specific outline has been developed, we will consider Vermont to have adopted full reciprocity. This means that Vermont non-resident producers can take an 8-hour Vermont LTC CE course or an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state. As stated above, we will continue to monitor any change in the Vermont requirements.

Refresher Training: Updated August 23, 2011: Vermont requires a 4-hour course every 24 months ending March 31st of odd-numbered calendar year. Training must be approved as CE. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Washington

Training Deadline:

- Existing producers licensed before 1/1/09 must have completed the training by 7/1/09.
- Producers licensed after 1/1/09, must complete the training before selling LTC insurance in Washington.

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour LTC course.

Resident producers: Washington allows resident producers to take a Washington Initial 8-hour LTC course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to fulfill Washington's requirements.

Non-resident producers: Washington adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a Washington 8-hour Initial LTC Course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Washington requires a 4-hour course every 24 months. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

West Virginia

Training Deadline:

- Existing producers licensed prior to 7/01/2009 must complete the training by 7/01/2010.
- New producers licensed after 07/01/2009 must complete the training mentioned above prior to selling LTCI.

Training Requirements: An initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: West Virginia producers must take a West Virginia 8-hour NAIC Partnership course.

Non-resident producers: West Virginia adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a West Virginia 8-hour NAIC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Updated August 23, 2011 West Virginia requires a 4-hour course every 24 months each biennial CE renewal cycle thereafter. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Wisconsin

Important Reminder — Wisconsin regulations require that no producer may attempt to solicit, negotiate or sell long-term care insurance until that producer is appropriately licensed, appointed AND completed the necessary initial and any ongoing training requirements.

Training Deadline: 1/1/09

Training requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course of which 2-hours shall contain Wisconsin specific Medicaid and long-term care information.

Resident producers: Wisconsin requires that resident producers take 6-hours of LTC insurance training and 2 hours of WI Medicaid training approved by the state of Wisconsin. John Hancock requires that the Wisconsin training be taken via a single 8-hour Wisconsin approved course that includes 2 hours of Wisconsin Medicaid training. Wisconsin producers cannot take an 8-hour NAIC course from another state.

Non-resident producers: Wisconsin adopted partial training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a Wisconsin 8-hour NAIC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state plus a 2-hour Wisconsin specific Medicaid and long-term care course that has been approved by the state of Wisconsin.

Refresher Training: Updated July, 2011: Wisconsin now requires a 4-hour course be completed by the end of each license renewal cycle instead of 24 months from the date of the initial training completion. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers. Additionally, Wisconsin now requires a 1 hour of Wisconsin Medicaid training to be included in the Wisconsin refresher course. For non-resident producers taking a course in another state, a 1 hour stand alone Wisconsin Medicaid training course is required.

Wyoming

Training Deadline: July 1, 2010

Training Requirements: Initial 8-hour NAIC Partnership training course.

Resident producers: Wyoming allows resident producers to take a Wyoming 8-hour NAIC Partnership course, or they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state to fulfill Wyoming's requirements.

Non-resident producers: Wyoming adopted training reciprocity. This means that non-resident producers may take a Wyoming 8-hour NAIC Partnership course OR they may take an 8-hour NAIC Partnership course from another state.

Refresher Training: Updated June 27th, 2013: 1 Wyoming requires a 4 hour review course every 24 months thereafter. This training requirement is for both resident and non-resident producers.

Submission of Training Requirements to JH LTC Licensing

Producers must meet their states' training requirements PRIOR to soliciting or selling LTC insurance. The date the training is completed must be prior to the date the applicant(s) signs the John Hancock LTC insurance application.

Proof of Training

Insurers are required to maintain proof of training in order to assure LTC insurance producers have met the training requirements. States have set a very high bar for demonstrating compliance. It is not enough for an insurer to simply maintain a date of training course completion in a database. The insurer must retain, and as evidence in response to a market conduct examination, be able to provide copies of actual documentation of course completion.

In order to meet the high standards of the "proof of training" requirement for both the initial 8-hour training and subsequent 4-hour refresher course, John Hancock requires that all producers provide us with the Certificate of Completion they receive from the course provider.

The Certificate of Completion must include the name of the course, the course ID, and the number of hours issued.

In lieu of a Certification of Completion, we will accept a state CE transcript generated directly from the state insurance department or their designated vendor. We cannot accept a non-state generated transcript.

There are three ways to submit your Certificate of Completion to LTC Licensing:

1) Email: mgalicensing@jhancock.com
2) Fax: 617-450-8057
3) Mail: John Hancock Life Insurance Company (U.S.A.), Attn: LTC Licensing
   200 Berkley Street, Floor B-5-01, Boston, MA 02116

State Partnership Program and John Hancock Partnership Product Launch Dates

The following chart reflects the status of each state's Partnership program and also includes the initial launch date for John Hancock's Partnership products.

As a reminder, in order to participate in the Partnership program, a state must file an SPA (state plan amendment) with CMS so that they can change their Medicaid guidelines to allow for asset protection offered under Partnership policies. Please note that that the approval of an SPA does not mean that Partnership policies can be sold immediately. It takes time for states to finalize all of their requirements for a state's Partnership program to be considered operational. In addition, insurers must file and receive approval of their Partnership certification filings before they can begin to offer Partnership policies.

John Hancock Partnership Product - Available Inflation Options

Please note that for a policy to be DRA Partnership qualified, it generally must have the following inflation protection options. Specific requirements vary by state:

Ages 60 or Younger: CPI Compound Inflation Coverage; CPI Compound Inflation Coverage through Age 75; 5% Compound Inflation Coverage
Ages 61-75: CPI Compound Inflation Coverage; CPI Compound Inflation Coverage through Age 75 (only available through age 70); 5% Compound Inflation Coverage
Age 76+: Inflation protection is optional. CPI Compound Inflation Coverage; 5% Compound Inflation Coverage; Benefit Builder Inflation Option, No Inflation

The only benefit difference between a DRA Partnership policy and a non-Partnership policy is that a DRA Partnership policy must have the appropriate age-based inflation protection.

Policy forms approved by the Insurance Interstate Compact can also qualify for DRA Partnership status after the insurer has obtained acceptance of its Partnership certification from the participating state.

The chart below details what inflation options John Hancock currently has available via its Custom Care III featuring Benefit Builder product in states with operating DRA Partnership programs. We believe that these options meet DRA Partnership requirements, but are of course subject to individual State Insurance Department confirmation. States shaded in gray indicate that the state has approved our Partnership certification filings.

John Hancock's Custom Care III featuring Benefit Builder product is designed and certified to meet the requirements for Partnership-qualified policies in states that have implemented DRA Partnership programs.

Please note: Benefit Builder is not a Partnership-approved inflation option for issued ages 75 and under. The Benefit Builder option meets the DRA Partnership requirements for ages 76 and over. It is currently being filed (and approval is expected) with the individual states. We will notify you via Newslink when this becomes available. If a client has selected Benefit Builder and is age 76 or older prior to state approval, we will notify the client and provide a Partnership Disclosure Notice upon state approval.

In addition, some states have chosen to provide regulatory guidance on available inflation options. If that is the case, that guidance is included in the "Additional Information" column. Also, we have highlighted the states where our filing has been approved.

Important note: John Hancock's CPI Compound Inflation option has been accepted in all DRA Partnership states to date except Kentucky. Tennessee changed its position on allowing for insureds age 60 and younger. (See below for specific details). States which require specific minimum levels of inflation are allowing the CPI alternative in addition to any fixed rate floor such as 5% or 3%. A fixed rate floor is not applicable to increases tied our CPI inflation option. This means that a CPI increase in a given year could go below 3%.

The table which follows covers the currently-marketed Custom Care III featuring Benefit Builder product. It is not available in every state.

Custom Care III featuring Benefit Builder - Available Inflation Options for Partnership

State Asset Protection Reciprocity

On September 2, 2008, the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) published guidance outlining the requirements for asset protection reciprocity among Partnership states. This guidance became effective on January 1, 2009. The DRA allows states to provide asset disregards and related estate recovery offsets for Medicaid applicants who receive benefits under qualified long-term care insurance Partnership policies.

Asset protection reciprocity allows Partnership policyholders who have purchased a qualifying policy in one state, but move to another, to receive dollar-for-dollar asset protection if they qualify for Medicaid in their new state of residence.

Reciprocity is an attractive feature for many consumers, especially those who may be contemplating a move later in life or who do not currently know where they may reside in future years. Although the insurance benefits of Partnership policies are portable, the asset protection afforded by Medicaid can be limited to state-specific requirements.

Under HHS' guidance:

- All DRA Partnership states are deemed to have adopted reciprocity, unless they notify the Secretary of HHS that they opt out in writing. A state may opt out at any time.
- Any participating reciprocity state agrees to recognize reciprocity with every other participating reciprocity states for the purpose of granting asset protection.
- If a state opts out of reciprocity, that state is not allowed to recognize Partnership policies from other states for purposes of asset protection, nor can other participating states recognize asset protection via policies issued in an opt-out state.

  Of the current DRA Partnership states, previously Wisconsin had opted out of reciprocity due to a technical problem with their law which requires an individual to be a Wisconsin resident in order to receive Medicaid Asset Protection. However, Wisconsin Assembly Bill 701 took effect on May 13th, 2010 and among other unrelated provisions, changed the state's position on DRA Partnership. The State of Wisconsin now provides for asset reciprocity for residents of other states who hold a DRA Partnership qualified LTCI policy.

- The original four grandfathered states (CA, CT, IN and NY) are allowed to opt into reciprocity with DRA Partnership states by filing a revised State Plan Amendment. To date, Connecticut, Indiana, and New York have chosen to do so.
  - Connecticut - HHS approved their participation and that approval was made retroactive back to 1/1/2009.
  - In addition, it should be noted that Connecticut also has a separate reciprocity agreement with the grandfathered Indiana Long-Term Care Partnership Program.
  - Indiana - HHS has approved their participation and that approval has been made retroactive back to 4/1/2009.
    - All Indiana Partnership policyholders regardless of when their policy was originally purchased are covered under the Reciprocity Compact Agreement.
    - The other states are not going to recognize Indiana's Total Asset Protection if an Indiana resident moves to a DRA state and applies for Medicaid. Similarly, a DRA state's resident moving to Indiana cannot be considered for Total Asset Protection under the Indiana Medicaid program. Under the DRA and the Reciprocity Compact, a policyholder may only receive dollar for dollar asset disregard.
  - New York
    On June 1, 2012, New York joined the National Reciprocity Compact for the recognition of Medicaid Asset Protection for member states with Deficit Reduction Act (DRA) Long-Term Care Partnership programs, with retroactive applicability.

This change allows a DRA Partnership policyholder who moves to New York state to take advantage of dollar-for-dollar asset reciprocity if later applying to New York's Medicaid program to cover continued care. Similarly, a New York Partnership policyholder who moves to a DRA state that is a member of the Reciprocity Compact will also be eligible for a dollar-for-dollar asset reciprocity if applying to that state's Medicaid program. This recognition is retroactive to all existing New York Partnership policyholders.

As of 2/1/2013, 37 states have been authorized to implement DRA Partnership programs and are members of the Asset Reciprocity Compact:

Alabama	Illinois	Montana	Oklahoma	Virginia
Arkansas	Kansas	North Carolina	Oregon	Washington
Arizona	Kentucky	Nebraska	Pennsylvania	West Virginia
Colorado	Louisiana	North Dakota	Rhode Island	Wisconsin
Florida	Maryland	New Hampshire	South Carolina	Wyoming
Georgia	Maine	Nevada	South Dakota
Iowa	Missouri	New Jersey	Tennessee
Idaho	Minnesota	Ohio	Texas

Original Grandfathered Partnership States – Training Requirements

Below you will find the training requirements for the original four grandfathered Partnership states. As a reminder, there is no training reciprocity between the original grandfathered Partnership states, nor is there any training reciprocity between a grandfathered Partnership state and a DRA Partnership state.

California

PLEASE NOTE: John Hancock discontinued sales of its California Partnership Long-Term Care insurance product on September 16, 2013.

General LTC Requirement: 8-hours, California LTC 2004LTC prefix course required prior to soliciting LTC.

Partnership LTC: An additional approved 8-hour Partnership LTC course prior to soliciting Partnership business.

Non-Resident Requirements: Non-resident producers must comply with these requirements.

Continuing Education Requirement: 8 hours required per year for the first 4 years of being licensed, then 8 hours biennially thereafter for both LTC and Partnership CE.

Visit www.jhpartnership.com to access California training.

Connecticut

General LTC Requirement: Not required

Partnership LTC: Producer is required to complete a one time 7 hour program and receive a CT Partnership Certification. The Partnership training consists of the 2 components - an online prerequisite course (including exam) and a 4-hour classroom course taught by Partnership staff. Completing this two-component training meets the specific requirements set forth by the Partnership.

Non-Resident Requirements: Non-resident producers must comply with these requirements.

Continuing Education Requirement: Producer must keep their CT Life & Health license current, including all normal continuing education requirements (the LTC Partnership course can be used towards this).

Indiana

General LTC Requirement

- Complete an 8 hour basic LTC course. The course may be self-study or online.
- After completing the initial 8 hour course, complete a minimum of 5 hours (one 5 hour course or combination of 5 hours) of continuing education in LTC every 2 years of the license renewal period. Courses can be self-study or online.
- Non-compliance with the 5 hour renewal requirement will require completion of the 8 hour basic LTC class again.

Partnership LTC

- Producer must comply with the above and complete a 7-hour Partnership LTC course. This course is a one time course, in-classroom only.
- An annual 3 hour Seminar for Partners class is also offered as a refresher course on Partnership.

Non-Resident Requirements:

- The basic 8 hour and 5 hour renewal requirements are waived for producers holding an IN non-resident license if Indiana has licensing reciprocity with that state.
- The 7 hour IN Partnership CE requirement is required for Non-Resident producers.

Continuing Education Requirement: The LTC and LTC Partnership course can be used towards CE.

New York

General LTC Requirement: Not required

General Partnership LTC: Producers are required to complete a one-time New York Partnership LTC online program and receive a New York Partnership Training Certification. Producers who complete the NYS Partnership e-learning and pass an on-line monitored final exam will earn 6 continuing education (CE) credits.

Non-Resident Requirement: Non-resident producers must also complete this special New York Partnership training requirement.

Continuing Education Requirement: Producer must keep their NY Life & Health license current and in good standing, including all normal continuing education requirements. These CE credits can be used to meet the mandatory Department of Insurance requirements for producer recertification.

Additional Partnership Resources

The www.jhltc.com homepage includes a section dedicated to the Partnership program. From here you'll be able to view resources and materials available to help you get trained, certified and market our Partnership-certified LTC insurance policies.

Client Brochures — Partnership policies will use the same product brochures and applications as our existing product portfolio. Provide your clients with additional information regarding the DRA Partnership Program in the states below using the Partnership brochure, "Protecting your assets: What you need to know about the Qualified State LTCI Program." This brochure can be used in conjunction with any of our existing product brochures and includes the following topics:

- Explanation of Medicaid Asset Protection
- How a Partnership-qualified policy works
- Details about John Hancock's Partnership qualified policies

Availability — The applicable version of the Partnership brochure is available to download and to order in the states listed below, form number: ICC-LTC-3800 for Compact states; LTC-3800 for non-Compact states. A producer-only version is available to download from www.jhltc.com for training purposes (LTC-3801).
